

Case management for companies

Supporting you and your employees

Added value for everyone

Our case management service for companies benefits both employers and their staff in equal measure.

Employers

Long-term absences and the costs they incur present major challenges for companies. Our case management experts will work with you to find solutions for reducing downtimes, thus helping to boost your company's productivity and finances. Our well-organised case management team boasts many years of experience in the fields of health and work integration.

The aim of case management is to get employees who have been ill or injured back to work as quickly as possible. All activities are conducted, coordinated and monitored directly by our experts.

Employees

If employees are off work for health-related reasons for a long time, they often find it difficult to go back. The longer they are unable to work, the lower their chances of reintegrating into working life. Our case management scheme offers you personal support from a dedicated contact person. Regular contact is therefore part and parcel of the service.

What we do

The team works with those concerned to develop measures for increasing the employee's capacity for work and providing support in terms of physical and mental health. Our service includes arranging and supervising work trials and coordinating with employers, medical service providers and other insurers. Our case management experts liaise with medical professionals offering treatment and advice to clarify the employee's capacity for work and to check measures aimed at job retention. If it is not possible for the employee in question to return to work, job coaching can be arranged.

What we offer

- Transparency, trust and openness are the characteristics that set our case management service apart.
- Our support comes at no extra cost to you and your employees.
- All information is treated as confidential. Data protection is guaranteed.
- Advice and support can be provided in German, French, Italian and English.

We support you

If an employee may be unable to work for more than 20 days, or if the situation is unclear, please contact our case management team.

We will be happy to help you.
