Advice for health and work integration

Illnesses or accidents can have long-term consequences for those affected. Apart from health restrictions, uncertain prospects and worries about your job or your financial situation can also be very stressful.

Being able to return to work on time and being given appropriate work in a respectful environment are key factors for supporting recovery and successful reintegration. This is where our measures come in.

Our Case Management team consists of experienced and highly qualified specialists who will help you through the recovery process. It is a partnership based on trust.

The support covers agreeing on objectives and appropriate measures together and coordinating matters with your employer, medical staff, other insurance companies and the authorities. The goal is for you to keep your job. If this is not possible, we will assist you in starting on a new career path.

Do you require any support from our team? Contact your employer who will coordinate the process of registering with us.

All data will be treated in the strictest confidence. Data protection is our utmost priority.

We will be happy to help you!
